56k Internet Connection

This type of connection utilises a standard 56k dialup modem. It is a very popular type of connection because of its low cost and portability anywhere in Australia. Westnet offers local call dialup access Australia wide.

ISDN Internet Connection

If you cannot gain access to Broadband ADSL then ISDN is for you. Westnet ISDN is available at 64k and 128k. To connect to Westnet ISDN you need to convert your telephone line into an ISDN digital line. The digital line offers two 64k channels, which means that when you purchase a Westnet ISDN service you can connect to the Internet at 64k while talking on the phone on the other channel. If you wish to connect at 128k, you will require a 128k Westnet ISDN account that will engage both of the channels.
